Thanks Board Operator. You and your cadre give us all hope.
Imagine Fred and Barney, with their stupid yuk yuk yuk laughing at some horrible sacrifice. Would Wilma and Betty approve of that?
Historical OC from me to you, I barely even want to breathe any breath at all into your sleeping dragon here.

Sorry I didn't respond, haven't been on board for a while now.

It's from the hobbit.

Chains of gold, but does smaug the dragon eat humans.

Yes, however the point is that tolkein said the dwarves were masons, and thus, smaug the gold lover is their enemy it's a book about the championship fight between gold lovers.

Humanity should be constantly shitting its pants at how unfathomably hostile the universe is to us. Only by uniting to protect ourselves while still respecting our individuality can we hope to survive.

Not only have satellites found a wall of FIRE at the edge of the solar system, but we have detected radio transmissions, however faint, that we did not create.

A few sources of esoteric knowledge allege that the practice of wearing rings is a subtle part of saturn/cube/satan worshipping tradition that has been worked into our modern customs since saturn is the only ringed planet in the solar system.

I havent seen any good evidence or much reasoning on this point, yet i find the ubiquity of diamond rings being very peculiar.

Diamonds at their most pure forms are simply repeated cubic structures of carbon, the 6th element on the periodic table, with 6 electrons and being the basis of all life on earth, commonly mined by impoverished africans and being at the core of many african conflicts. Along side this, many women have been conditioned by these diamond selling masonelry companies to go after an extremely expensive diamond ring above all else in a marriage.

The combination of the sixes in the element, the structure, the nature of how they are collected and how they have been pushed into our culture seems very offputting to me

The title of carbon being the 'master element' of all life on Earth, the cubic structures it usually forms and how children are often harmed collecting carbon in the form of diamond gives me very demiurgic/saturnian connotations does anyone have any more information about carbon/diamonds/rings in the occult sense?

is there a consensus about the origins of rings and diamonds?

Onyx rings used for psychic vampirism. wrist rings used in druidry. Nose rings bull style for some cults. Masonic rings with s and c on the outside and swiveling into a square and company. clankety big rings used in ceremonials. Ritualism, tokens of initiation in some sense. Ring being the hook into the initiate as they are lead by cattle rope etc. Similar to choker loko babes. kind of like pins but for plateaus of initiation if i recall or understand correctly. Crowley used rings to change his mood shift rings to another hand. diamonds pinial glands or the alchemical stone adrenochrome. Big jester symbol is the diamond unsure of its meaning.

diamonds sound close to adamant and both are touted for being the hardest substance adamant goes to Saturn's sickle and more importantly adamantine prison, place where fallen angel watchers are kept Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds could be worked out as Lucifer in the Sky (i.e. Saturn, the black sun that gives invisible light leading to illumination) with the diamonds either being shining stars (angels) or harkening back to adamant therefore pointing to Saturn as the place of or symbol for adamantine prison (compare to Alice in Chains - Alice=Lucy=Lucifer and chains being the chains of adamant) there's always more to this stuff but that's the best explanation I've found so far

Bill cooper really is under-rated when it comes to people like art bell and alex jones. He always got back to the point of it all. I heard the other day a show he did in 2000 where he was getting angry that the news was lying about how a plane was missing he said there will be a lot more plane incidents and it was so obvious. He knew about 9/11 and he knew about the school shootings beforehand.

milton made the elite so mad they killed him. Yes he was murdered and alex jones said (and I am paraphrasing here) he was "a drunk lunatic who kept harrasing me after I let him on my show a couple of times" after he was murdered. Alex jones is profiting off of what would have been bill coopers take on the world. They had officers on the roof of his home who hit him with bullets fatally. How could it have been like the mike brown situation when he was being shot at so much a cop on the roof of his house shot him? He had meticulously broadcasted things that I even speculate and do not triple fact check. He was the american man when you hear him talk to listeners it reminds you of the good old days that may have really existed. When he talks about how people are afraid and uninformed and his rage at talking to a sleeping world he richeously coined the term sheeple. He was also apparently part of naval intelligence because he was a demolay and checked freemason in clubs on a military application. Recently Q had dropped hints of bill cooper being part of the great awakening movement within the intelligence community. He had CAJI the Citizens Agency for Joint Intelligence. He had people infiltrate lodges and even had a 3 hour interview with a 32nd degree mason who confirms masonic guillotine depopulation plans by freemasons. I feel obligated to go back and listen to him every now and then and what he was was a man in control in a crazy world. This thread is to post good clips and anything Hour of the time related.

I may be wildly off but didn't Bill with his Project redlight tapes along with the lectures/luxor hotel/Deely plaza videos...
- Didn't he create the genre of conspiracy documentary? True alternative media long form expose's on specific conspiracies like who killed JFK and area51(he claimed to have introduced the public with the location and lore of area 51).

I can't think of anything aside from the patterson Bigfoot footage walking in the woods of anything before that. By the way he kind of with his basically pirate short wave radio program and his videos and series. I believe he changed the rhetoric of conspiracy completely by initially the ufo nonsense. Ufos and aleins are one of the largest psyops done to the public. He established credibility in that field and single-handedly proved how it is a deception. Did Bill Cooper create the format of conspiracy videos? Well he made it so that cable-TV at the time and the controlled opposition step up from their usual servings of Elvis faking his death, Bigfoot, and of course aliens. Isn't is convenient how Bigfoot and Elvis and extra-terrestrials have absolutely no impact on anything in real life? He changed to tone and beyond that I believe with the masonic expose's it lit up something in the heart of the nation. We then saw the "satanic panic" of the early 90's. Interesting that the "satanic panic" followed after his mystery Babylon series. Almost as if people where throwing themselves at being suicided to go on daytime tv and beg for people to understand that their kids where being taken to rituals and abused by luciferians. The blue house case in Evansville Indiana sparked David Carrico to publish the Egyptian satanic masonic connection.

The "satanic panic" was basically pizzagate but with hundreds of children and distraught families supporting the children who did not know each other claiming all over the world that they where being sra'd .basically they called it fake news with the false memory syndrome and by calling it a hysteria. They stopped it and shut it down when the consensus began to come out that it was freemasons and "secret societies like the oto" and though they where forced to blame their masonic abuse on things set out for them to blame like michael aquino - through tremendous shilling they insisted it was masonic covert satanism and thus it was no longer a satanic panic but the victims where simply having false memories" the fake news" of the 90's.in the 90's soccer moms where going public supporting their childrens testimony and many families where suicided by "satanists". A lot of people a lot of dirty masonic law enforcement people have blood on their hands since then trying to steward the conspiracy narrative. A lot of "normal" people too like jim and every mason personally would insist in things like how the cult they are in is not alive anymore as a secret society that its historically known as. Lying to your face about that shit and acting like talking about aliens is like riding a ferris wheel. Bigfoot is fun to discredit controlled violence without repercussion. So then when youtube emerged we saw the symbolism videos and the Illuminati. Thats when alex jones comes in and mentions masonry lesser and lesser but implying it (not specifically) with words like "globalists" "banksters" and "deep state". It doesnt end there oh no have you has anyone seen any kind of thread about organized satanism on 8chan in the last year or so? How many fucking times do these freemasons have to insist its the fucking kikes like I am gonna have to respect the kikes as if its like some fucking praise kek nonsense? I have to praise kike and call everyone a kike and only focus on kikes as masons are fucking acting like snowglobe shakers and hidden hand circle jerks?? Because of that specifically because of the moderate in frequency occurences of freemasons blaming jewish people on anything at all I can never respect the kike theory. I was referring to the psyop to convince people (not convince but peer pressure) and coerce people into having to just call them the globalists. To blame aliens and to overtly use red herrings and ignore the masonic part of the judeo power base to convince me of anything. I was not saying "not a chance in hell" to the motto of the board to "Read everything , listen to everyone.believe nothing unless you can prove it." rather to the point of getting lead astray with popularism and viralism into having to think in the kike alt right mindbox. I know the Templars were corrupted by their search for knowledge, but what about the others?

Honestly I'm especially curious about the Livonians, did they know anything about the evil forces at play, and if so can we use that to stop Masons and the like now?

Since Templars are said to have started with nine members I'd venture to say they've been corrupt from the very inception - see Ennead and ONA (Order of Nine Angles or Angels rather).

Hospitallers had a beef with Templars but I don't know if that was just a trivial power struggle (or a show) like English vs French masonry or nazis vs commies. Whatever the case Hospitallers - Knights of Malta are the same occult shit now. Curiously enough Malta is an island with a very intriguing area in terms of megalithic structures and legends of giants.

Not very familiar with Livonian Order but since it fell under Teutonic Order I can only tell you it couldn't have been on the side of good. Teutonic Knights were just a medieval attempt at drang nach osten under the guise of spreading christendom and veiled in deviously crafty diplomacy. Slaughter, rape, pillage didn't matter as long as it was against heathens lol.

It's naive to expect a force of good in the world of darkness that should defeat the darkness by employing the ways of the darkness it seeks to overthrow. Only thing that could've helped would be genuine biblical Christianity since it addresses the core problem but the stage is already set for widespread persecution even in the so called civilized countries so it won't be a solution you perhaps hope for. But a solution is not possible.

World has to fall for people to understand that even at their highest wit they're foolish and, despite utmost efforts, helpless. I'm not talking about the Great Reset here but another attempt at a golden age that comes later with a promise of solving all the ills of this world but will end up a nightmare.

They didn't stop their aggression on Lithuania even after they converted and eventually bit the hand that fed them and which had let them settle where they have in the first place. They were just a political force coming up with nice sounding justifications for conquest.

Western education seems to have a romanticised view of the Teutonic Order for some reason. Maybe it's because they look cool with those horns on their helmets but then again - horns on the helmets.

That is called scrying. Also remote viewing. Now one of the most frustrating things about occultism is they do not emphasize that visualization means imagination. These robot fucks are so set on keeping stupid cult shit hidden in plain sight they need to be walked through imagining a pentagram. I have tried to visualize to the point of psychedelic visuals and have never been successful. By psychedelic visuals i mean actually being able to draw as if the world is an alpha layer and the mind can holographically create whatever i imagine. I Used to be able to do it as a child though. I imagined a pink amorphous goo pre-ditto that i called plaadthicka. One day playing with the plaadthicka it morphed into 2 red eyes staring at me. scared that instinct out of me. So they do this to ruin the imagination of children you see

Fascinating. Scrying, aa in the old days, with certain scribes reading bones in a fire to navigate information. It seems the old styles of such have evolved majorly in our psyche over the course of millenia. You say visualization emphasises imagination, and that is truly interesting.

One day, while listening to a video of Bill Donahue (Ewetube channel) speak about imaging within the mind, the realization became quite clear how to look at the word imagination. You have three words, of course more if you wish to break it down more, but for the sake of discussion, I will talk of image-i-nation. Your mind's eye, or i, holds its own nation within. You are able to image directly within it, because the nation is a domain where one may conjure up images. This is partially what Jesus spoke of with bearing false images. Never was it intended to be literal (this is how the esoteric order of priests of religion speak unto the masses, or the exoteric circle). We craft images physically, externally, but not before we conjure images mentally, internally. Before it is made manifest through our hands, it is created in the image eye nation. Sounds silly, but with a trained eye is one able to build anything they desire.

&gt;&gt;3992

Adding onto this, I live in America, the nation here bears symbols everywhere. This is to ensure our eye stays captivated by symbols and not signs, which are commonly given by the Creator. By ensuring that the mass hypnosis led by the de-sign-ers keeps people powerless with their imagination, children grow up leaving behind their abstract mind, and adopting a concrete, or con-create, mind that is grounded by instilled methods of mental application. Smoothing the wrinkles. There are few who manage to fade away from this conditioning that the schools enforce onto the children.

&gt;&gt;3975

Have you encountered moments where you feel out of body with these experiences? Or possibly, when adding extra information, do you sense that you're pulling information from out of nowhere? Curiously so, there is a similar phenomenon that happens when it comes to dialing back memories and uncovering information buried in the details. As though I am hyper-analyzing it photographically.

☐ Anonymous 03/08/2021 (Mon) 11:29:36 [\[Preview\]](#) No.4298 [\[X\]](#) del

I believe what OP is referring to in his post is visualization instead of scrying. Visualizing is manipulating your optical brain to see things that may not necessarily exist. I can visualize an apple in my hand, which doesn't exist. Astral projection is the idea that by visualizing you can see through a network (the main one being the tree of consciousness, seeing through another being's eyes). If I imagine an alien landscape that is visualization. If I visualize an alien landscape with the idea that I'm viewing it from a point in an omnipresent entity that I have tapped into through the tree of consciousness that's astral projection. Scrying would be looking into smoke or tea leaves and seeing a pattern in the sediment or smoke and interpreting that pattern. Remote viewing would be looking at a box and visualizing what is inside, with the idea that you can see inside the box, perhaps through the omnipresent being like in astral projection.

These aren't skeptics. Skeptics are the opposite of these people. A skeptic would take what he sees on mainstream media with a grain of salt and research on his own time if interested.

i was thinking of a different kind of person. that is a skeptic but its also an npc. what i was imagining is the demographic of people who at least outwardly obey the masonic deception. to the point if you say something that explains the deception they go hmmmm while imagining their throat being slit if they agree.

Hey, just so you know I've been scrubbing some of the broken images so that they may be re-posted.
Some of the old images have been broken since the backend migration, so even if they get re-posted they still won't quite work.
If you see any you can report them globally and we'll scrub them so then they'll work.

Anon is right, OP. I can see that you meant skeptics of the truth, though.

Seems to me that they either are literal NPCs (research inner-monologue studies if you haven't) or are simply lying to keep the happy delusion up. That, or they are willing servants of the system, in any case still obnoxious.
