>Are these all in the qr or qrb doughs?

I don't know tbh, I don't read the dough here 'cause I just pay attention to the threads :)

On both 4 & 8chan the archive sites and posting were in the dough, but I always made posts letting anons know when the spreadsheet was updated (after Q posted or binge-posted kek). All the images Q ever posted (or responded to) are in one gallery on posting.cc, Screenshots of every single Q post (nested with his response to an anon, if possible) are in galleries by month there also. Zipped files of those monthly galleries are uploaded on anonfile, so Patriots can archive offline.

The FF browser addons for archive sites & the one for archiving a web page are absolutely invaluable. Just think - you can right-click on a link and have it archive in a new tab, without having to open it, copy link, put link into an open tab of the archive site... It's painless and really fast, so it makes archiving really easy and saves me a lot of time.

The one to save the page as html is also invaluable - some sites will NOT archive (Insta and LinkedIn for example) - sometimes, to preserve evidence, anons will save those pages offline (very small single html file that includes images) - this is a lifesaver because sometimes anons will post something highly suspicious here, and when we go to look... OOPS! It's not private or only accessible if you have an account! Or, it may be deleted altogether. Sometimes a fast response is necessary because sometimes people do not archive first!

I'm glad you are interested in this because it is really preserving evidence of malfeasance, corruption and crimes. We are like a large off-site adjunct research force. If we don't archive (put it in the figurative file) it may not be kept and that evidence slips away.... so it never gets put into the file on that target or topic!

Re copy pasta problems biggest ones are with links when they're the only thing in the whole paragraph hard to copy pasta the link the normal way (with 3 mouse clicks)--do that, and the link is followed not copied can't get around the edges easily, either and whenever you want just PART of a page, the software is not cooperative--whole pages are fine. never seen a worse copy pasta in any other program!

the reason i don't like changing dough formatting in little ways is that i have to do it really fast in 8chan--bc breds can be 25 mins or less. Everything has to be totally automatic for a baker, wrote about this in this bred or another when i realized why it matters to me. most important for a baker is being able to bake when Q posts, and i do it the "8chan way" in order to keep the muscle memory the same. i practice over and over again, so it can be done fluently, without thinking. that is the only way it's possible to get thru those super fast breds.

I'll stick around for a few then sign off,
o7

Looks to me like a log of the info a browser sends to a webpage

Another example would for instance be (found at <https://www.stoutner.com/the-x-requested-with-header/>):

not sure what makes this notable its a HTTP request with headers, same as browser would make.

>>11048

Host = the site/app to route to. typically used when multiple sites are hosted on the same server(s).

Connection = determines whether the connection is kept persistently connected or not

Upgrade-Insure-Requests = one way to redirect user from http => https

X-ANYTHING = extensions, users can define at will. typically see in spam filtering, proxies, etc

Accept/Accept-Langauge/Accept-Encoding = specify what the client, ex your browser is willing to accept back from the server.

That's some outside-the-box thinking, but doesn't seem connected to any Biblical concept, or linked to any source other than the poster's imagination. And it doesn't explain the "99% hospital" concept at all, unless there is more to the theory than in that screenshot.

One of the theories that makes most sense to me is: If 100% of the truth was made available to everyone, the dark elite at the very top would start a nuclear war with the intent to harm or destroy everyone. And maybe also pile on natural disasters, plagues, and societal breakdowns on top of it.

They've been planning a huge population reduction for a long time (Georgia guidestones) anyway, and that would be as good a time as any to do it. The 1% that didn't get hit would probably be the outliers who survived by luck or randomness. Or the 1% might be those connected to the elites that have been chosen and given the ability to survive, like access to underground bunkers.

Oops, no no. Sorry.

Belay that.

"while read ifile; do"

is just fine, and it runs here just perfectly fine.

So it's a mystery to me how JbRNzN3J throws errors with you, but 99TXGmW7 runs through.

Well, the world is full of mysteries ... so nothing new here.

Kek!

Go, soul, the body's guest,
Upon a thankless arrant;
Fear not to touch the best;
The truth shall be thy warrant:
Go, since I needs must die,
And give the world the lie.
Say to the court it glows
And shines like rotten wood,
Say to the church it shows

This is Baker RH, testing the bred limits. Definitely goes over 751. Maybe BO can see if there is really any limit at all.

Meanwhile please go to new bread to post. Fresh bread link is here >>9450

760 posts deep and the pressure is immense. Posting because the thread is not locked (yet). I'm guessing the BO has to do it manually?

New Bread was up when this one reached ~650. I'd say that is in the neighborhood for a good bump-limit.
