2010 to present [\[edit \]](#)

In July 2011, Pearson announced the creation of Pearson College, a British degree provider based in London.^[P1] Also in 2011, Pearson acquired Connections Education and agreed to sell to 10% stake in FTSE International Limited to the London Stock Exchange for £400 million.^[P2] In 2011, Pearson also increased its stake in TutorVista, such that it had a 70% stake, for $127 million.^[P3]

Pearson entered into talks with major conglomerate Berthelmann, over the possibility of combining their respective publishing companies, Penguin Group and Random House in October 2012. The houses are considered two of the "Big Six" publishing companies.^[P4] On 26 October 2012, Pearson said it would merge Penguin Books with Berthelmann's Random House to create the world's biggest consumer book publisher.^[P5] Then in May 2012 Pearson announced its acquisition of Unedwelling Corporation, an American business English software and solutions company, in an all-cash transaction.^[P6]

In May 2013, Pearson announced a new restructuring plan to invest in digital learning and emerging markets, after predicting weaker earnings.^[P7] https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pearson_plc#2010_to_present

The change supports the decoupling of the Penguin consumer publishing business into a separate entity with Random House (forming Penguin Random House). The new structure combines the separate education companies, Pearson International and Pearson North America under one Pearson company. Pearson will operate around three global lines of business - School, higher education and Professional. The Financial Times Group and Pearson English will form part of Pearson Professional.^[P8]

In July 2014, the company announced it had cut 4,000 jobs, representing 10% of the company's workforce.^[P9]

Pearson announced on 23 July 2015 that it had agreed to sell the FT Group, which includes business daily Financial Times, to Japanese media group Nikkei for £344 million, or $1.52 billion. The sale does not include FT Group's London property at One Southbank Bridge.^[P10]

In August 2015, Pearson's sold its 10% stake in The Economist to the Agnelli family for £400 million^[P11] who previously held a 7% of the group.^[P12] The remaining 50% of The Economist Group is owned by the Schroders, Cadbury and the Hutchings.^[P13]

On 5 November 2015, the company announced it was re-branding, including the creation of a new logo, with a "100% focus" on education.^[P14]

On 5 July 2017, Pearson sold its TutorVista and EduVista lines of business to India-based education technology company Byju's.^[P15] On 11 July 2017, Pearson agreed to reduce its holding in Penguin Random House to 20%, by selling a 20% stake in the business to Berthelmann.^[P16]

In August 2017 Pearson announced that it would cut 3,000 staff in an effort to save £300 million annually.^[P17] On 10 August 2017 Pearson sold the language learning subsidiary Online Education for Chinese company Pu-De Education for £52 million.^[P18]

In November 2018 Pearson announced the launch of the Pearson Access platform.^[P19]

In 2019, Pearson sold its US K-12 business to the private equity firm Heaton Capital Management.^[P20] Pearson also sold its remaining 20% stake in Penguin Random House to Berthelmann.^[P21] Pearson CEO John Falter will retire from the company in 2020.^[P22]

Lindsey Olin Graham (born July 9, 1955) is an American politician, affiliated to the Republican Party (United States), who serves as the senior United States Senator from South Carolina, a seat he has held since 2003. Since 2019, he has been the Chair of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary.

A native of Central, South Carolina, Graham received his Juris Doctor degree from the University of South Carolina School of Law in 1981. Most of his active duty within his span of military service happened from 1982 to 1988 when he served with the Judge Advocate General's Corps in the United States Air Force, as a defense attorney and then with the Air Force's chief prosecutor in Europe based in West Germany. Later his entire service in the Air Force Reserve ran concurrent with his congressional career. He was awarded a Bronze Star Medal in 2014.

Graham worked as a lawyer in private practice before serving one term in the South Carolina House of Representatives from 1993 to 1995. His congressional career began when he was elected to the first of four terms to the United States House of Representatives, representing South Carolina's 3rd congressional district from 1995 to 2003. In 2002, Graham won the U.S. Senate election in South Carolina after eight-term Republican incumbent Strom Thurmond announced his retirement. He won a second term in 2008 and a third term in 2014.

A retired U.S. Air Force Reserve colonel, Graham is known in the Senate for his advocacy of a strong national defense[1] and aggressive interventionist foreign policy.[2] He is also known for his willingness to be bipartisan and work with Democrats on issues like campaign finance reform, a ban on waterboarding, immigration reform, and judicial nominees.[3][4][5][6][7][8] He has criticized the Tea Party movement, arguing for a more inclusive Republican Party.[7][9][10][11][12][13]

Graham ran his first and only presidential campaign between June and December 2015, dropping out before the 2016 Republican primaries began.[14][2] He was an outspoken critic of fellow Republican Donald Trump's 2016 candidacy and repeatedly declared he did not support Trump;[15] in particular, he took issue with Trump's comments on Graham's close friend, Senator John McCain.[16] Since March 2017, Graham has reversed his stance on Trump and has become a staunch ally of the president, often issuing public statements in his defense. His reversal caught both parties by surprise and sparked much media attention.[16][17]

Willard Mitt Romney (born March 12, 1947) is an American politician and businessman serving as the junior United States senator from Utah since January 2019. He previously served as the 70th Governor of Massachusetts from 2003 to 2007 and was the Republican Party's nominee for President of the United States in the 2012 election.

Raised in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, by his parents, George and Lenore Romney, he spent two-and-a-half years in France as a Mormon missionary starting in 1966. He married Ann Davies in 1969, and they have five sons. By 1971, he had participated in the political campaigns of both parents. Romney earned a Bachelor of Arts in English from Brigham Young University (BYU) in 1971 and a joint JD–MBA from Harvard University in 1975.[1] Romney became a management consultant and in 1977 secured a position at Bain & Company. Later serving as Bain's chief executive officer (CEO), he helped lead the company out of a financial crisis. In 1984, he co-founded and led the spin-off company Bain Capital, a highly profitable private equity investment firm that became one of the largest of its kind in the nation. Active in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS Church) throughout his adult life, Romney served as bishop of his ward and later as a stake president near Boston.

After stepping down from Bain Capital and his local leadership role in the LDS Church, Romney ran as the Republican candidate in the 1994 United States Senate election in Massachusetts. After losing to longtime incumbent Ted Kennedy, he resumed his position at Bain Capital. Years later, a successful stint as President and CEO of the then-struggling Salt Lake Organizing Committee for the 2002 Winter Olympics led to a re-launch of his political career. Elected Governor of Massachusetts in 2002, Romney helped develop and later signed a health care reform law that provided near-universal health insurance access through state-level subsidies and individual mandates to purchase insurance. He also presided over the elimination of a projected $1.2–1.5 billion deficit through a combination of spending cuts, increased fees and closing corporate tax loopholes. He did not seek re-election in 2006, instead focusing on his campaign for the Republican nomination in the 2008 U.S. presidential election. Though he won several primaries and caucuses, Senator John McCain was chosen as the Republican Party's nominee. Romney's considerable net worth, estimated in 2012 at $190–250 million, helped finance his political campaigns prior to 2012. Romney won the 2012 Republican presidential nomination, becoming the first LDS Church member to be a presidential nominee of a major party. He was defeated by incumbent Democratic President Barack Obama in the 2012 presidential election, losing the Electoral College by a margin of 206–332 and the popular vote by a margin of 47%–51%.

After re-establishing residency in Utah, Romney announced his campaign for the U.S. Senate seat held by the retiring Orrin Hatch in the 2018 election; he defeated state representative Mike Kennedy in the Republican primary and Democrat Jenny Wilson in the general election. In doing so, he became only the third individual ever to be elected governor of one state and U.S. senator for another state (the others being Sam Houston and William Bibb). Romney was sworn in on January 3, 2019.

One day they found a cave that was back in a little canyon that they hadn't been to before it was hidden by some trees. As they went into it, they thought it was very well preserved and had Indian dwellings in it. In the back there was one room that didn't have any doors or windows. They founded on it and knew it was a hollow room. They got a stick and dug a little hole then put the smallest boy through the hole to see what was inside. When he got in and sat down, the light came in through the hole and he could see a girl sitting there. He said he had a hard time getting in that room through the small hole, but didn't have a hard time getting out.

About a month later, an archeologist from the United States was visiting the Pachuca area. He was told about this boy seeing the girl in the cave. The archeologist went to the boy and said he would give him a dollar if he'd take him where the girl was. He was taken there and they opened up a door into the cave and sure enough, there was a girl sitting there. She had on a blue velvet dress, had long blonde hair and blue eyes. There were two hollow (clay) jars by her, one contained squash seeds and the other one was empty. It had probably contained water.

... through which to enter and exit and two or three port holes. Within, the caves were partitioned off into rooms, the number being largely determined by the size of the cave. The outstanding one is the "Olla Cave," situated half way up a gigantic cliff, the entrance to it being about 200 feet above the bed of the creek below. The entrance is reached by climbing over the face of a sloping ledge for a considerable distance. The mouth of the cave is about 18 by 50 feet and the cave itself is about 200 feet in length. It contains a number of dwellings, some of them being two stories high. One of the buildings was evidently used for public worship and immediately in front of it stood what appears to have been an altar. An Olla—a great earthen vessel, whose circumference is 35 ft. and reaching from the floor to the ceiling, was built within the cave and was likely used for the storing of grain, though some have conjectured that it was used for the storing of water in times of a siege.

Adam Bennett Schiff (born June 22, 1960) is an American politician serving as the U.S. Representative for California's 28th congressional district since 2013. A member of the Democratic Party, he has served in Congress since 2001.

Schiff's district, numbered as the 27th from 2001 to 2003 and as the 29th from 2003 and 2013, has been centered in the San Gabriel Valley east of Los Angeles, including Pasadena, Glendale and his hometown of Burbank. For his first six terms, he represented a district included the areas of Alhambra, Altadena, San Gabriel, Burbank, Glendale, South Pasadena, Temple City, Monterey Park and Pasadena. In 2010, his district's boundaries were re-drawn to include, among others, La Cañada Flintridge and La Crescenta-Montrose as well as large slices of Los Angeles itself including Sunland-Tujunga, Hollywood, the Hollywood Hills, West Hollywood, Echo Park, Silver Lake and Los Feliz.

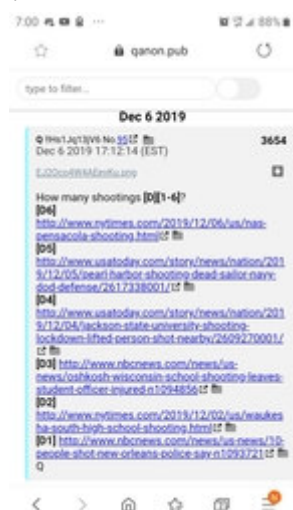

He currently serves as Chairman of the United States House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence. He is currently on leave from the House Appropriations Committee which he joined in 2007. He previously served on the United States House Foreign Affairs Committee and the State, Foreign Operations and Related Programs Subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee.

Probably, but that was years ago. This happened today:

<https://www.zerohedge.com/health/active-shooter-pensacola-naval-air-station-least-10-casualties>

And according to QAnon, Adam Schiff (chairman of the house intelligence committee) is tied to this and 5 other shootings.

Holy fucking shit.

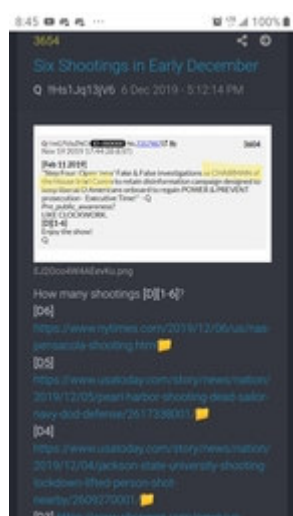

Time is of the essence right fucking now anons. I have speculated openly on this site that mass shootings are the result of psychotropic pharmaceuticals and masturbation to internet p0rn. Think MKUltra skullfucks the electric universe on acid. This sounds insane until you consider that the government used voice-to-skull technology in the first gulf war in the fuckin 1990s and b1acked pr0n is all filmed in california.

Was this saudi national in our navy sharing p0rn data and eating the same adderall as chairman schiff? Would be a hell of a cohencidence if he was. I tried to ask him myself on linkedin today but his account was locked kek.

Im a phonefag who cant post on 8kun which is why i need one of you autists to post this on the latest 8kun.top/qresearch/ thread. Schiff is the most treasonous and dishonorable shit to ever defile our congress and that's saying alot. He must be dethroned NOW. Please do this now, anons. Strike while the iron is hot.

A U.S. official who spoke to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity identified the shooter as Mohammed Saeed Alhazami. The official wasn't authorized to discuss the matter publicly. The official also said the FBI is examining social media posts and investigating whether he acted alone or was connected to any broader group.

During a news conference Friday night, the FBI declined to release the shooter's identity and wouldn't comment on his possible motivations.

"There are many reports circulating, but the FBI deals only in facts," said Rachel L. Rojas, the FBI's special agent in charge of the Jacksonville Field Office. "This is still very much an active and ongoing investigation."

It's as I feared anons. Rachel Rojas is leading the FBI investigation into the Pensacola shooting today. She was appointed to her position in Jacksonville by Chris Wray. Rachel had previously warned a colleague to stay away when they asked about the tarmac meeting between BC and LL. She's just going to coverup and obfuscate everything that happened at the naval base today. Hell she'll probably mindwipe the other six saudis connected to this so that they can never tell us the truth about what actually happened.

The most prominent progressive Democrat to embrace the segregationists was Jimmy Carter. He accepted their endorsements and used them as surrogates on the campaign trail. In fact, Carter made the most powerful symbols of segregation — Gov. George Wallace (D-Ala.), Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) and Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) — a central element of his strategy to reclaim the South in his bids for the White House in 1976 and 1980.

"We are ready to provide the necessary help to develop new gas pipelines in Romania". Biden and Ponta's statements after the meeting held at Palace Victoria
21 Mai 2014

Today is an important day for Romania. The American Vice-president Joe Biden has scheduled meetings with several Romanian officials. In only a few hours, Joe Biden will meet Traian Băsescu at Cotroceni Palace. At the end of their discussions, the two will hold a joint press conference. Vice-president Joe Biden will later meet Prime Minister Victor Ponta at Palace Victoria where they will address Romania's involvement in the anti-terrorist war and the situation in Ukraine. After the meeting with the prime minister, Joe Biden will go back to Cotroceni Palace, where he will hold a press conference. The visit of the American vice-president to our country is the most important event since the visit of the Chinese Premier a few months ago.

Joe Biden arrived to Bucharest yesterday afternoon and the first stop the American Vice President made was at the Otopeni Military Airbase where he delivered a speech before the Romanian and American troops. Joe Biden arrived at Cotroceni 15 minutes later than the time scheduled. The head of state welcomed Biden at the entry into the Palace in the Honorary Hall. Traian Băsescu and Joe Biden shook hands before the journalists and took an official picture. Joe Biden is now discussing with Traian Băsescu. "I have not seen you in a while", president Traian Băsescu told the US Vice-president and Joe Biden replied: "I am glad to see you".

George Soros,[a] Hon FBA (born Schwartz György; August 12, 1930)[1][2] is a Hungarian-American[b] investor and philanthropist.[8][9] As of February 2018, he had a net worth of $8 billion,[10] having donated more than $32 billion to his philanthropic agency, Open Society Foundations.[11]

Born in Budapest, Soros survived Nazi Germany-occupied Hungary and emigrated to the United Kingdom in 1947. He attended the London School of Economics, graduating with a bachelor's and eventually a master's degree in philosophy. Soros began his business career by taking various jobs at merchant banks in the United Kingdom and then the United States, before starting his first hedge fund, Double Eagle, in 1969. Profits from his first fund furnished the seed money to start Soros Fund Management, his second hedge fund, in 1970. Double Eagle was renamed to Quantum Fund and was the principal firm Soros advised. At its founding, Quantum Fund had $12 million in assets under management, and as of 2011 it had $25 billion, the majority of Soros's overall net worth.[12]

Soros is known as "The Man Who Broke the Bank of England" because of his short sale of US$10 billion worth of pounds sterling, which made him a profit of $1 billion during the 1992 Black Wednesday UK currency crisis.[13] Based on his early studies of philosophy, Soros formulated an application of Karl Popper's General Theory of Reflexivity to capital markets, which he claims renders him a clear picture of asset bubbles and fundamental/market value of securities, as well as value discrepancies used for shorting and swapping stocks.[14]

George Soros
A self-appointed advocate of the new Thatcher

process has been slowed down by the inexperience of the newly elected Rada on proper procedures and total transparency.

8. The distinguishing feature of the new Ukraine is that, while the oligarchs are influential in the political parties, ministers and other officials are selected not on the basis of party affiliation but personal integrity and professional qualifications. This feature needs to be preserved. Moreover, the budget is still a leaky container. The sources of the large leaks are well known: Naftogaz and the banking system; the government needs to stop these leaks in order to induce the donors to put money into the container. It is essential for the government to make the donors aware of the situation and to offer them incentives to share the wider spreading income of Ukraine, or an evenly covered income.
